NewBridge names trustees; looks to preserve programs

STAFF REPORT

PEQUANNOCK -- NewBridge Services, a nonprofit community provider of behavioral health and education programs and services, has announced its board of trustees for 2010.

The board oversees the agency's activities, expenditures and growth, and participates in short- and long-term strategic planning. This year's board will focus on maintaining NewBridge programs that are no longer supported by state funding.

The NewBridge board members are Jeffrey Gillman of Pompton Plains, president; Bonnie Holmes of Pompton Plains, vice president; Mary Ameen of Wanaque, recording secretary; Doren Greene of Mountain Lakes, corresponding secretary; Allen Levy of Towaco, treasurer; and members William Eckert of Pompton Plains, Nancy Grimbilas of Pompton Plains, Sharon Hollick of Pompton Plains, Francis McEnerney of Chester and Debra Rosellini of Towaco.

NewBridge's senior programs focus on improving the daily life of seniors and providing the resources and services to help them remain in their own homes. Youth services include a variety of life-enriching educational and counseling programs in areas such as resolving conflict, developing life skills, stress management, healthy living, career counseling, preparation for high school diplomas and job placement.
